An Oversight.

The silence of the Editor of The Friend for June on the subject of Memorial Day is due, among the adherents of the monarchy of the sive breathing. A stand-up collar that cut into probably, to absence of mind. We had very speedy restoration of Henry V to the throne of sclemn assurances on the Sabbath evening pre- his ancestors. But these hopes were as quickly gay-colored handkerchief fluttered in the breeze ceding Memorial Day from the Editor that his dispelled by the Count himself, who in a letter from his neck. ## Miccabe.

We remind our readers that this gentleman gives his entertainment in Honolulu this Saturday night at the Music Hall. He has been before the public so long, and his success has been so great in London and indeed all over the United Kingdom as well as the Australian Colonies, that it is hardly necessary for us to add any word of recommendation of his remarkable perform-Egyptian Hall, Piccadilly, concludes with this full ob cherubumic glory. Make dis land ober-eulogistic sentence. "The loud and genuine flow with milk an honey; of grace like de old laughter of the audience, coupled with their plandits, mingle with our thoughts as we pen these comments. When our readers are informed the songs are all Mr. Maccabe's composition, and revert to the pleasure he affords, they will agree with us that he has no near rival in his profession. The applause bestowed upon his performance was most enthusiastic, and well worthy of this genius, author and musician."

Pendulum Observasions.

Mr. Brown of the Eclipse Party went up to Labama on Tuesday on the Likelike to take a series of observations there with the pendulum for determining the shape of the earth. Proi. Department accompanied the party.

The Anglican Church Chronicle.

The Chronicle for June made its appearance promptly last Saturday, and is filled with interesting matter. ## The Planters' Monthly.

The June number of the Planters' Monthly has been received. The leading article, on the Chinese popu-Intion, contails a statement to the effect that "the great body of the Chinese who come here are people who regard men but not principles." It is the fashion to make mysterious conduct. In the first place we mysterious conduct the first place we mysterious conduct. In the first place we mysterious conduct the first place we mysterious conduct. In the first place we mysterious conduct the first place we mysterious conduct. In the first place we mysterious conduct the first place we mysterious conduct the first place we mysterious conduct the first place we mysterious conduct. In the first place we mysterious conduct the such statements respecting the Chinese, but | would premise that cats are very foud of warmth no trouble is taken to prove them. The intelligent Chinese deny their truth, and they ought to know. A report is

" They had all the dry leaves and rubbish drawn away from the roots of the cane to the space bethough the treatment would be fatal. But now, two months since the burning, the whole crop is in a vigorous and thriving state, appearing finer than fields near by which were not burned."

Knowing as we do how destructive the borer has been in many cases, we clip this note on immigrant labor to the introduction here of those who are not "young, well and strong, and able to earn their own living." While we agree with the writer that the planter (as such) wants labor and 23-Best collection of Forest Trees, suitable for the labor alone brought Into the country, still, as the editor of the Pianters' Monthly elsewhere remarks, in effect, that the disproportion of sexes (consequent upon the importation of males alone) is a source of danger to the community, he should not object too strongly to the bringing of widows with small children, or men with a few fingers Awanns will also be made for meritorloss exhibits or toes gone; into the country, or say that furticins which may not be included in the above if such additions to our population are of no st; and all exhibits that will be of interest to the advantage to the country. "At the Huelo Plantation, the sugar is carried from the centrifugals to the sugar room on an endless belt which passes beneath the centrifugals the sugar falling directly upon it. The power for driving it is taken by belt from the same shaft that drives the centrifugals. S. L. Austin expects to put one in on the Onomea Plantation the coming ummer. This method is undoubtedly the cheapest method of transporting sugar from the centri-fugals when it cannot be dropped directly into the SUGBE TOOM. We would add that this plan worked well except that a no small quantity of sugar was lost by its clinging to the surface of the belt, and being carried back to the rear roller, where it falls off on to the floor under the machinery, and is washed away in cleaning up at night. Mr. R. Catton, the manager of the Huelo Plantation, obviated this fault by having a scraper fixed so as to clean the belt off over the shoot leading to the sugar room floor.

The Count de Chambord.

The Count de Chambord, whose death is again eported, was the head of the elder branch of the Bourbons, and was born in Paris in September 29, 1820. He was the son of Prince Charles Ferdinand d'Artois, Duc de Berri, who was assassinated in March, 1820, and of the Princess of the two Sicilies, the famous Duchesse de The prizes awarded to the Exhibitors of Animals and objects of great excell new will be the Society's Silver Medals of the First Class. the castle of that name, which was bought for him by public subscription. In 1843, when at exile in London, he made a kind of politica debut, claiming the crown of France, and holding a sort of regal court. In 1846 he married the Princess Maria Theresa, eldest daughter of the Duke of Modena, but there has been no issue. On the fall of the empire, after the capitulation of Sedan, he addressed a grandiloquent proclamation to the French people exhorting them to rally round him, and in 1871 he sent another proclamation to all the governments of Europe, containing a protest against the bombarrangements will soon be perfected which will ardment of Paris. On the 8th of May the same year he issued a manifesto in which he sought tine the passengers destined for Honolulu. #### Transplanting Trees.

We are glad to see that the palms that were transplanted in Messrs. Hackfeld & Co.'s yard a short time ago are sending out new branches. #### Culture of Oranges and Strawberries.

An experiment made last year by myself may not come amiss at this time with those who grow strawh tries. I procured half a hogshead, filled it with rain water and put into it one-quarter pound of nitre. When the strawberry plants the solution at evening twice a week until the fruit was nearly ripe. The result was double signed at Honolulu, or of D. H. HITCHCO K., tuchnouser, the amount of fenit on those where the liquid Hilo Hawaii. W. AUSTIN WHITING. was applied to where none was applied." B. F. Lelong, foreman at B. F. Clark's Yale Orange Grove at Orange, brought to the Times office yesterday a number of oranges, among which were Wilson's Best, seedlings, and Konas-all bright, fresh-looking fruit, and free from smut. The oranges were brought not as samples of the fruit (although they are fine), but to show the effect of spraying the leaves with whale oil soap. Mr. Lelong said that the smut on the oranges was caused by the ex-crement of the black scale; but the red scale The annual meeting of the British Benevolent | does not produce smut, and that while the brown scale does not produce it, the insect is very rare cular spot of the potash in the soap. These disgolorations are very rare and are not objection-The Treasurer's report showed an expenditure able in comparison with the smar. On the brightest of the fruit imported from Cuba, the Sandwich Islands and other tropical sections these spots are occasionally noticed.

The trees in Mr. Clark's grove were sprayed in August, as an experiment. Two applications were necessary, and all parts of the fruit were not touched by the first spraying, and consequently all the insects were not killed. The whale oil soap water, in its operation, seems to kill the insect; the smut rising in a crust from the fruit, by the action of the sun and wind, on Mr. Clark's trees, were three-fourths of a pound of the scap to a gallon of water. Mr. Lelong regards the whale oil soap as superior to sulphur, the fruit being more efficiently cleaned and the sprayer not becoming clogged, as is apt to be the case in using sulphur. A careful investigation of the merits of whale oil scap in this use is of great interest to Southern California orchardists. — Los Angeles Times.

President Arthur and Chief Tom.

While President Arthur is having a good time n Florida, he is evidently looking out for the main chance. At least we judge that he is trying to capture the entire Indian vote in the coming presidential struggle if we may credit the following description of the dress worn on the occasion of his receiving Tommy Tigertail a Semin-ole chief who called on him accompanied by his squaw, her sister and a number of papooses The Sun correspondent says : "He looked like the sign of a Baxter street second-hand clothing shop; below nothing. A gay-colored shawl was bound in folds tightly around his head. He seemed top heavy with it, or as though he was carrying a red tub on his scalp. Next there was a shirt, with a polished front, and an alligator his ears and held his head like a stock, and a and the papooses were swill in since It is reported that "Toming said no sus-lighted," There is a little ambiguity in wording of the extract we have quoted from, and it may be pessible that we have got the President and Tommy mixed.

The Fair Divorce.

It has lately become publicly known that Mrs. James G. Fair, an estimable lady, respected by every one in this city, where she resided for many years-had begun a suit for divorce from her husband, Senator Fair. San Francisco and Virginia city have for many months teemed with rumors of family disagreements, and this is the ulmination. The complaint for equas of action recites several specific acts of infidelity to the marriage vow on the part of the defendant, which has not been condoned by the plaintiff. Since the facts came to her knowledge she has lived apart from him. The parties were married in Calaveras county, California, in December 1862, and four children have been the issue - two boys, aged twenty and sixteen, and two girls, aged thirteen and eight years, respectively. Plaintiff further alleges that the defendant has in his possession and under his control a large amount of community property, the pariculars of which she is unable to state. Wherefore plaintiff prays judgment-First-That the bonds of matrimony between herself and defendant be dissolved, and that the custody of the said minor children be awarded

Second-That such portion of the community property be allowed and set apart to plainfull shall be equitable and just. Third that the defendant be required to pay nto court a reasonable sum to defray the ex-ses of this action, and for counsel fees; and defendant pay to plaintiff such further sum slimony as this court may seem just for ner support during the pendency of this action, and for such other and further relief as may be ust. -- Virginia Chroniele.
